The Wedding Entertainments Guide

Your Wedding day will be a day you want to cherish forever, and naturally you will expect everything to be right on the big the day.

The choice of wedding Receptions & Venues is now greater and wider than ever. Many Hotels and Restaurants offer wedding packages, but many over charge the entertainments packages, and what you end up with, is some local resident DJ who is limited and inexperienced to what many professional Discotheque and Entertainments services could offer your wedding evening, and by no means do you have to except the venues entertainments packages. But normally the large hotels do offer quality and experienced Discothèques that are supplied by experienced professional business.

We would recommend that you check out your Discotheque our Entertainments provider first, by asking to see them first or ask if they are members of any professional bodies and carry insurance as well as any information or history they could send you, and always get a written agreements.

When planning your wedding, think about how formal or informal and romantic you want the day and evening to be and always make sure that the venue or function area will be able to take the size and dance area for your evenings entertainment requirements.

Omega Music & Entertainments wedding services

We offer a number Discotheque options for your function that depend on size of your function room. We also offer a number of special effects Lighting and Equipment for your first Dance and Evenings Entertainments, which include Bubble machines, Dry ice Machines, Heart shaped lighting effects and Spot lights for your first dance. We can make your evening into anything you require, whether it's low key or full nightclub effect or just fun. We can also offer something really unusual like themed receptions from any favourite era, or supply musicians for your wedding reception. We can also cater for civil weddings and sermonises.

We confirm all our bookings with contract and give you the choice of music and Discotheque options you require and any special stipulations you requested.

We have great experience in supplying wedding entertainment and supply our services to large hotel groups and organisations.

If you require any information or advice on any Entertainments requirements please don't hesitate to contact me for any free advice.
